

The information in this form has been provided by you to the Australian Federal Police for the purpose of obtaining a criminal and/or traffic records check, and you recognize that the result will be taken into account in deciding whether to grant whatever entitlement is sought.

NOTE:

The information obtained from you in this application will not be used for any purpose other than indicated without your prior consent except where statutory obligations are placed on law enforcement officials.

You may be requested to complete another consent form in the future in relation to this or other entitlements and any decision to comply shall be of your own choosing.

As an alternative to completing this consent form you may, if you wish, produce a certificate from the Police Force in each State or Territory in which you have lived during the past five years. This would involve fingerprinting and payment of a fee.

Before completion of this form there are matters that you should be aware of as follows:

- a) On 30 Jun 1990, new Commonwealth legislation came into effect relating to the collection, use and disclosure of old conviction information. The new legislation is commonly known as the Spent Convictions Scheme.
- b) The aim of the Scheme is to prevent discrimination on the basis of certain old convictions, once a waiting period has passed and the individual has not re-offended. The Scheme also covers situations where an individual's conviction has been set aside or a pardon granted.
- c) An individual whose conviction is protected by the provisions of the Spent Convictions Scheme does not have to disclose that conviction to any person, including a Commonwealth Authority, unless an exclusion applies.
- d) The Spent Convictions Scheme exclusionary provisions apply to many Commonwealth Authorities and advice thereon should be sought before completion of this form

I acknowledge that I have read these notes and am aware of my entitlements:
